

Answer

Answers

- Sa'ad lives in Aqaba city in Jordan.
- Nihal lives in a town located on the outskirts of Babylon County in Iraq.
- Doha lives in a small village in west London in Britain.
- Nasser lives in a village on the bank of the River Nile, in Sudan.

The city has a beautiful historic mosque and a popular souq that sells traditional products and heritage clothing.

The Aqaba harbour.

In the south of the city.

The city is quiet and suitable for families.

A historical castle and a well-known museum.

Near the town, there is a massive shopping centre and a large zoo.

In the south, there is a modern sports stadium that hosts local football matches.

The village is famous for beautiful public gardens (parks) and charming rural houses.

The village has a theatre (that shows local performances), and a sports centre with a youth club and a modern swimming pool.

The village is located near Heathrow Airport, from where people travel around the world.

The café in the village offers local drinks.

The village connects to the nearby city through a large bridge.

There is a park and a lake.

It contains rare books.